

Global Indirect Tax Benchmarking Survey

Understanding your effectiveness in managing Indirect Taxes, in isolation and relative to others in your market

The Indirect Tax Landscape

The global indirect tax landscape is constantly evolving, with the move towards real time reporting, a growing focus on governance and increased complexities in Indirect Tax regimes, to name a few.

How can taxpayers keep up?

Through understanding of the as-is position, as well as both the planned and desired to-be environments, businesses can objectively assess how well the Indirect Tax function is contributing to the execution of the overall business strategy, and where in the journey of continuous improvement the Indirect Tax function is.

PwC's Global Indirect Tax Benchmarking Survey will help businesses obtain the data needed to draw insight both internally and through comparison with other businesses of a similar size, industry or facing similar challenges.

Key benefits

The questionnaire has been designed with the following in mind:

1

Qualitative assessment of the key attributes of successful indirect tax management

2

Insight into ideas and approaches to the management of indirect taxes

3

A qualitative understanding of best practice

4

An independent assessment of effectiveness and where your own function differs from your peers

5

Insight provided by PwC's of ideas for improvement and refinement gleaned from how other approaches achieve results

6

Material that helps secure additional resource or budget for improvement
